Investment strategy

SKAGEN Focus is a high conviction equity fund that seeks to generate long-term capital growth by investing in a portfolio of global companies across the market capitalisation spectrum, with the majority of exposure invested in small and mid-cap companies. Subscriptions are made in fund units and not directly in stocks or other securities. The benchmark reflects the fund's investment mandate. Since the fund is actively managed, the portfolio will deviate from the composition of the benchmark.

Monthly commentary, April 2025

April's standout event was the so-called "Liberation Day" in the US, as tariff-related developments continued to dominate headlines and drive both market movements and macroeconomic data. This contributed to heightened volatility across global equity markets. Overall, we observed a continued rotation out of US assets, accompanied by further weakness in the US dollar.

SKAGEN Focus outperformed its benchmark during the month. The top contributor to performance was German potash producer K+S, which benefitted from an overall pickup in demand and higher output prices. Our South Korean holding, IM Financial (formerly DGB Financial), was another strong performer, reporting solid results and continuing to execute its turnaround strategy through improved shareholder returns.

On the negative side, falling methanol prices and a temporary production outage weighed on the share price of our methanol producer Methanex. Nonetheless, we view the current tariff-related market dislocation as broad-based and temporary, creating attractive investment opportunities going forward.

Guided by our value-oriented investment strategy, we continue to maintain a modest 10 percent exposure to US equities. Our focus remains on deeply discounted European small- and mid-cap stocks, which we believe are well-positioned to benefit from evolving market conditions. Should current market dynamics persist – with capital flowing out of the US and into discounted international markets, particularly in Europe – we believe the fund is well-positioned to deliver significant value for unitholders in 2025 and beyond.

Sustainability

SKAGEN's approach to sustainability

Our ESG approach is built on four pillars. In keeping with SKAGEN's active investment philosophy, our sustainability activities centre on active engagement with our holding companies, which is where we believe we can have the greatest impact. We recognise, however, that the full potential of a sustainable investment strategy is best realised when combining the following four pillars.
